1. Do you not want Me to speak with you five times a day? Seven, nine, ten, twelve, what is your pleasure? What do you take Me for? Am I a friend who speaks only when I feel like speaking and then mute the rest of the time? NO, I am a friend who speaks and I come in relationship and once relationship is established to the extent that I can make Myself fully known, I come and I make Myself fully known. Do I restrict Myself? You restrict Me. How often will you permit Me to speak?

2. I come in relationship and when relationship is established and set forth, focused on, appreciated, valued highly, a priority, THE priority, I come and I share Myself multiple times, multiple ways throughout any given day with My people.

3. Reframe your thinking about how I speak, when I speak, who I speak to, who I speak with, who I carry on conversations with, who I teach, who I let lead as they follow Me. Recast, reframe, redevelop what I am giving you now and know that I am doing this in all of My body, bar none, those, that is, who have paid the price--time with Me.

4. Redevelop your thinking about how I nurture My people, how I am with them, in them, 24 hours a day. I never leave and I speak, I flow when they let Me and they have relationshipped with Me to the point of no return.

5. You are walking in a realm where few have walked but you must take many with you. I have told you, you are a point man and there are many in your wake, and many will deem desirable the desire of full release, and understanding magnified by My glory, of what I am and I have been, inside them all the time.

6. They want to know, there are many hungry, satisfied not, knowing there is so much more. Into My realm bring them, you bring them and help Me nurture them until I nurture them alone. I have told you some of these things before.

7. Many things I say many times, many different ways at different times, emphasizing, reminding, underlining, bringing focus to. I love you. Now charge Me with the care that I am. I love you.

8. Allow Me to speak, allow Me to monologue, dialogue, trialogue with you and My body. I love you. Be free and constrain Me not, and I will come and I will speak in times not just thought holy, reverent, or in places you think appropriate. You already know that but not many do.

9. Into My realm I am pressurizing you so that you can withstand all pressure and any forces not of Me. I love you. So many mock what they don't understand, not having learned how to learn, not having the synergy of understanding and learning and opening of their eyes by Me. I love you.

10. Single focused be and I will come. I will speak many times throughout the day in every kind of situation and even while you are in conversations with others.

11. Let Me be who I am fully, more fully. And I thank you.

Molecular structure comes, di-analyzing My triangular precepts. I give you Me. You have sought to understand My trinity so long. I give you Me. I give you more.

Let Me speak. Thank you. I thank you.

All comes, all is, all are.
Very good.
Thank you.

Dad.
